RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Graduate Research Assistant

08/2024–Present

Ecologies of Liberation Lab,
University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Advisor: Nathan Todd, Ph.D.

Involved in data collection, cleaning, and launch of the SGM Networks Study ($N=920$), an ego network study measuring LGBTQ+ and measures on religiosity, health, and social support structures.

- Preregistered a study examining how social support and network structures differ by formerly, currently, and never religious sexual minorities [Preregistration].
- Created an automated data quality monitor workflow using R and GitHub.

Research Affiliate

05/2023–Present

Spiritually and Emotionally Sustainable Leadership Lab,
Fuller Theological Seminary

Supervisor: David Wang, Ph.D.

In collaboration with Dr. Wang, I led analyses and dissemination of the Seminary Formation Assessment Project ($N=452$), a $1.9 million longitudinal study funded by the John Templeton Foundation that examined seminary students' spiritual and personality development.

- Longitudinal analyses examining the role of narcissism and gender differences across spiritual and personality traits in seminary students.
- Lead author on several manuscripts.
- Led and instructed an analysis team of two graduate students to use R for data analysis.

Research Assistant

08/2023–07/2024

Nebraska Academy for Methodology, Analytics, & Psychometrics;
University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Supervisor: Lorey Wheeler, Ph.D.

Recruited as a research assistant after completion of the NSF-REU under the supervision of Dr. Wheeler. I supported funded projects using R, SPSS, and Mplus.

- Assisted data cleaning and analysis in 6 federally and privately funded projects (>$2.3M).
- Consultant on problematic and mischievous responses in survey data collection.
- Supported analyses on manuscripts for journal submission.

Research Assistant

05/2023–07/2024

Sexual, Gender, and Religious Identities Lab, Utah State University

Supervisor: Tyler Lefevor, Ph.D.

Assisted in analyzing the Four Options study, a national longitudinal study of Latter-day Saints who are SGMs. This study examined the associations of sexuality, gender identity, and religiosity in LDS-SGMs.

- Led analysis of moderation and moderated mediation models using R programming.
- Construction and validation of the Religiously-based Family Expectations scale through exploratory and confirmatory factor analysis using {psych} and {lavaan} packages.

Research Associate

12/2023–05/2024

Sexuality and Gender Identity Institute, Wheaton College

Supervisor: Mark Yarhouse, Psy.D.

Led quantitative analyses related to the SGI+ Project [$N > 2,200$] of SGM college students across the contiguous United States. This study examined two groups of SGM college students, those attending religious and non-religious academic institutions.

- Cleaned data and created a codebook.
- Provided consultation on identifying mischievous responders.

Research Assistant

08/2022–12/2023

Sexuality and Gender Identity Institute, Wheaton College

Supervisor: Mark Yarhouse, Psy.D.

The SGI Institute focuses on research and clinical practice on sexual orientation and gender identity (SOGI) in religious communities. Assisted in the launch and analysis of “SGI+ Project,” a national project investigating SOGI experiences in Christian college students across the United States. SGI Institute also provides clinical services to religious and non-religious clients.

- Completed transcription of sexual attitudes and behavior, campus climate, emotional well-being, sexual identity, and gender identity.
- Observed over 20 hours of gender dysphoria consultations, family counseling sessions, and assessments.
- Completed an honors thesis on associations between sexual attraction and psychological distress in religious mixed-orientation marriages.
- Consultant on quantitative analyses for graduate dissertations.

NSF-REU Health Equity Summer Research Scholar

05/2023–08/2023

Interpersonal Violence Lab, University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Supervisors: Katie Edwards, Ph.D. & Lorey Wheeler, Ph.D.

Accepted as a full-time summer research scholar into the Research Experience for Undergraduates (REU) program and funded by the National Science Foundation. This program provided intense research and educational opportunities for undergraduates interested in pursuing careers in research. Worked on the PRYSHM Project, an NIMH control trial, to decrease teen dating violence and substance abuse in SGM youth.

- Led data cleaning and identifying mischievous responders in an online sample using R & SPSS
- Quantitative analyses with ANCOVA, correlations, and mediations using R & SPSS
- Qualitative analysis of youths' experiences of PRYSHM using NVivo
- Educational seminars on graduate school, funding, and more.
- Awarded Top Poster for Research Symposium for Healthy Equity.

Research Assistant

12/2020–05/2022

Youth Risk & Resilience Lab, Wheaton College

Supervisor: Sandra Rueger, Ph.D.

“Coalition for Healthy Asian Minds” study funded by Blue Cross Blue Shield, examining barriers and interventions to increase mental healthcare in Asian Americans.

- Assisted with manuscript preparation by cleaning data and tables.
- Completed literature reviews on family support moderating Asian American help-seeking attitudes on mental health.
- First authored a poster on Psychology-Church collaborations and another on the role of acculturation on depression in Asian American youth.
- Awarded Excellence in Research

CLINICAL EXPERIENCEDoctoral Student Clinician

08/2025–Present

University of Illinois Autism Clinic,

University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Supervisor: Amy Cohen, Ph.D., L.P.

Working with families and college students around autism spectrum disorder and mental health.

- Counseling for college students on topics related to anxiety and depression
- Screen, assess, and diagnose autism spectrum disorder in children (ages 3-6)
